

launch

Water Rocket Team Building <sup>in</sup>

In this scenario, it actually is Rocket Science! Your group will love constructing a highly pressurized water rocket with allotted time and materials. Each team must rely on each other to ensure the rocket is efficient, aerodynamic, and attractive. Then everyone gathers outside to watch them fly—rated by a number of pre-determined criteria that match your organization’s culture and goals. These dynamics provide experiential lessons and relational dynamics.

This explosive event is ideal for teams that want to enhance:

- > Communication. Generate great ideas and arrive at the best solution.
- > Execution. A precise strategy is only the first step. The Rocket actually needs to fly!
- > Engagement. Success follows when everyone contributes.

We know the importance of a truly cohesive team. A positive environment is crucial to meeting goals, increasing sales, and building culture. That’s why our team-building activities are fun and engaging; but they’re also opportunities for your people to learn from each other. Each experience will strike the right balance of entertainment and learning—in alignment with your organization’s unique needs.

$ COST

$100 per participant

Minimum 20 people

🕒 TIME

1–2 hours